Doris Miller Harnsberger, 1947-1948, Instructor
First woman faculty member in the Tufts Chemistry Department

B.S., 1943, College of William & Mary (Chemistry)
M.S., 1947, UC Berkeley (Physical Chemistry)

After teaching chemistry at Tufts for a year, she moved to California where she worked as research chemist before devoting her 19 year career to education in the Marin County public school system teaching science, outdoor education and career training at Red Hill Middle School in San Anselmo from 1967 to 1986. As a lifelong public education advocate, she also served as a Trustee of the San Anselmo School Board from 1962 to 1966, as the interim principal for Red Hill Middle School, and as a curriculum consultant following her retirement. In 1985, she was honored with the Marin County School System "Teacher of the Year" Award. Doris passed away Thanksgiving Day 2000 at the age of 78, due to complications from Alzheimer's disease. She was survived by her husband of 57 years, Hutch, her four sons Tom, Ric, Doug and Steve, eleven grandchildren, and her brother, Fred J. Miller, Jr.
